

TRACE Sensors Real-Time Location Services

Gather - Analyze - Optimize

How can you drive efficiency and increase productivity if you don't know where the gaps are?

Gain a detailed, data-driven understanding of how people interact and how your assets are allocated throughout your facility so you can optimize your business processes, streamline your workflows, and increase your businesses revenue opportunities.

TRACE Sensors provides hyper-accurate real-time location services (RTLS), using IoT technologies to gather data about the position of your workforce and industrial assets and turns that data into valuable analytics you can use to drive efficiency.

Gather

Create a digital blueprint of your facility, collecting data from a variety of IoT devices (tags, wearables, etc.), transforming your facility into an interactive, measurable environment.

Analyze

Enable automatically generated reports, including actionable KPIs and insights on the performance and trends of your production environment.

Optimize

Enhance business processes utilizing actionable knowledge on the execution of industrial workflows and optimize factory efficiency.

TRACE Industry

TRACE Industry was created to empower Industry 4.0 and advance the potential of smart factories, utilizing IoT technology to provide accurate, real-time location services (RTLS). By having the ability to locate your assets and your workforce anywhere in your environment—using data analytics—you can improve industrial processes to optimize your factory's efficiency.

TRACE Retail

TRACE Retail provides you with advanced in-store analytics that enable you to measure and analyze—in real-time and with high precision—how shoppers move and interact with products in a physical store, and to turn that data into actionable KPIs to improve processes and optimize your store's profitability.

COVID-19

TRACE Sensors is an all-inclusive and scalable solution that enables you to overcome challenges with asset and employee tagging, accurate real-time location tracking and physical distance monitoring, and comprehensive historical contact tracing to help your organization stay healthy.
